A true Mid Century Modern dream house! Set back on a large lot among the tranquility of mature shade trees, yet flooded with natural light, this breathtaking 4 bed, 3 bath architectural restoration has left no detail spared. The property is believed to be part of the Googie architectural movement which is a futuristic type of Mid Century architecture influenced by car culture, jets and space age. Once an expansion and redesign project circa 1968 by noted architect John A Corey, who was said to be a protege of famed architects Buff and Hensman; now brought back to vibrant life in 2021 with a thoughtful marriage of original architectural details and modern luxuries. Warm wood floors span the entirety of the home. The romantic, first floor primary bedroom features high arched ceilings, a large walk-in closet and a beautiful spa-like en suite bath. The floorplan maximizes space brilliantly and makes it feel like every room is in its own private wing of the property...
