Own a piece of Enid's history. Built in 1908 by Jacob J.C. Robberts who played an important part of the formation of Oklahoma statehood by serving as Attorney General for the Oklahoma Territory in 1903, this home is full of timeless details. Situated on a corner lot in the Waverly Historical addition this neoclassical home is on the National Register of Historic Places and has many of its original features still in tact. Oak hardwood floors, pocket doors, egg and dart mouldings, leaded glass...are just some of the intricate details throughout the home. All of the bedrooms are generous in size and the master offers something you don't see in many historical homes - an en suite bathroom! The 3rd story has been converted into livable space perfect for a 4th bedroom or another living space. Fenced yard, garage and updated bathrooms make this truly a one of a kind home. If you want the charm of a historical house but love updates that make the home functional...
