Stunning Mid-Century Modern bi-level property in Denver! A testament to mid-mod resplendence, named the Caughey House after the first owners, the home was designed by prominent architect William Muchow, considered the grandfather of Denver Modernism, and is respectfully restored to maintain the time-honored open style and simplicity of materials This bi-level is tucked high on the hill with a walk-in from the garage or front steps that take you mid-way…Upstairs is a timeless interior that showcases bountiful natural light, as 360-degree transom glass and original sliding glass doors. These 9’ sliding glass doors in the living space seamlessly connect to a backyard oasis with an expansive deck under extended overhangs and a separate paver patio, creating an excellent stage for al fresco entertaining. New contiguous hardwood floors anchor this open floor plan from living space to the stylish eat-in kitchen offers state-of-the-art stainless-steel appliances; a double ove...
