The beauty of 5700 Piedmont Drive is unveiled immediately upon passing through its front gates. The just under 19,000 square-foot main residence and approximately 2,200 square-foot cabana house/guest cottage sit on a roughly 2.2 acre property that is filled with mature trees and meticulous landscaping. As one of the highest elevation lots in Cherry Hills Village, it offers excellent views of Denver city lights and snow-capped Rocky Mountain peaks. The exquisite estate is now offered at $7.9 million and is listed by Erica Chouinard of Coldwell Banker Previews International. Once inside the main home, the interior is enveloped in a symphony of rare finishes such as French limestones, Brazilian hardwoods, granites from India and Alabaster light fixtures. In the heart of the living space, the chef's kitchen includes commercial appliances and five ovens, dual pantries, and dual refrigerators with the requisite upgrades one would expect in a home of this magnitude.
