This home has great curb appeal and the interior living space is very inviting. Gleaming hardwood floors, original architectural features and French doors to the courtyard provide loads of character. Modern updates like dual pane windows, plumbing and electrical upgrades, tank-less water heater and recent re-stucco of the exterior offer peace of mind. Kitchen and bath are beautifully remodeled in keeping with bungalow style. Attached single car garage with room for two cars in the driveway.

This property offers ample storage and laundry. The home's central courtyard creates a lovely and private outdoor dining room, or could offer many uses. Newer fencing surrounds most of the corner lot, and there is room for a garden at the generous side yard. There is off street parking in the newer concrete driveway. Normal Heights is a thriving San Diego metro neighborhood and if you lived here you would b...
