Loft Living on the Lake

Going to the woods is going home. -John Muir

If loft living on the lake in an exceptional wooded landscape of second growth white pines and a pond that is home to abundant wildlife appeals to you ...please have a look.

The Deck and the Woodstove

Experiencing the change of seasons is up close and personal for anyone living in the woods in northern Wisconsin. The heart and the soul of this house are the deck and the woodstove. My family and friends enjoy coffee or a drink on the deck while watching a fawn take her first steps, duck families skittering across the pond, or a great blue heron perching motionless on a log, not to mention the fall colors. And, we love gathering around the woodstove on chilly mornings and after cross country skiing on the lake, snowmobiling or snowshoeing in the woods. It's a wonderful life!
