History-

Greeley is named for Horace Greeley (1811-1872) founder of The New York Tribune which was considered to be the US's most influential newspaper from the 1840s to the 1870s. It is a town in Pike County, PA between Milford, PA and Hawley, PA. It remains mostly rural and mountainous. Visitors are drawn to Greeley for its scenic beauty and quiet lifestyle.

Want to win BIG? Then bet on this once in a lifetime business opportunity that has LOTS of potential. The Historic Greeley Inn is situated on six cleared, leveled, prime acres and located on a main traveled route. It will surely bring in the big bucks, and we are not talking about deer here. There is a lucky total of seven, yes SEVEN liquor licenses that includes outdoor service. The property features a restaurant bar and dining area, a clean and organized commercial kitchen with updated equipment and access to the outdoors, and two public restrooms.
